Here is what's happening at LPL in August...

To all our LPL families,

A big thank you to all our families who joined us at our Parent Appreciation events at Pirates Cove, Spring Canyon Park, and Broomfield Bay. Once again these events were a big hit and everyone had a great time!

The summer has flown by and we are already looking ahead to getting our kids back to school. However, we still have a busy August coming up starting with our annual Campouts. Please check with your Director as to when your school's campout is scheduled. This is an awesome opportunity for kids to sleep in a tent under the stars as well as roasting hot dogs over the fire. And, lets not forget the s'mores and some not-so-ghostly stories!

Our day camp kids are off to Water World on August 1st. This is the last of the colossal field trips for summer camp! All our day camps have had a great summer filled with some amazing field trips. Company-wide, our day campers went on 232 field trips! Our day camp teachers did a great job of keeping the kids engaged and busy.

August 1st is "Happy Birthday Colorado" day! Have your child dress in anything Colorado i.e. flags, mountains, sports teams, etc.

Check with your center director for your Back To School event. In addition, those parents with children attending public school that we will be transporting to and from school need to contact their director to make certain transportation arrangements are in place. Many director's have sign up sheets on the front counter in the lobby.

Looking ahead: September 9th is Grandparent's Day and we always celebrate these special people in your children's lives the week of 9/3 to 9/7. Each LPL will host their grandparents for a special event that week. Please check with your school for the specific date for that location.

September 19th is "TALK LIKE A PIRATE DAY!" There will be no walking the plank, but there will be pirate activities, crafts, and lots of "ARRRR'S" heard around the buildings. Get in the spirit of this day and send your little pirates fired up and ready for some swashbuckling fun!

Remember, we will be closed in observance of Labor Day on Monday September 3rd.

Enjoy the rest of your summer and stay safe.

LPL Celebrates Thirty-Six Years

August 2nd, 2018 marks thirty-six years of childcare for Little Peoples Landing. We are so thankful for all of the families and employees who have been part of the LPL family over all of these years. We are appreciative to all of our families for letting us be a part of their children's lives and to all of our past and present employees for their dedication to the children in their care. A lot has changed over the course of thirty years, but our commitment to keeping kids safe, building an educational foundation and making it all fun has always been our number one goal!

Reading Time

We prepare our children everyday to be more physically active and more mentally challenged. We enroll them in every sport imaginable. We place them in the best schools. We feed them brain food. And, we expect a lot in return. But ask yourself if you are preparing them in the most fundamental, easiest and fun way of all...are you reading with your child?

It is our responsibility, as parents, to prepare our children for the trials and challenges they will face in the future. One sure way is to READ to them daily! Reading helps them slow down and focus, it teaches them patience and endurance, it encourages a strong imagination and develops memory skills. A book will also get them out of the scorching sun on very hot days. Every book teaches a child something...share a story with your child, today!

Why we ...

....COMBINE CLASSROOMS

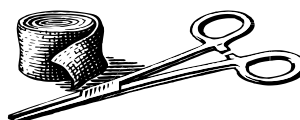

During early morning and late afternoon we move our children into groups to better utilize our staff. This "grouping" is an ongoing exercise and changes from hour to hour and day to day depending on when, and at what rate the children arrive and leave the school every day. In the morning children are "grouped" until we have enough children in a particular age group to warrant a teacher. Then they are moved into their regular classroom. They are only "grouped" at the end of the day, when the number of children remaining in that particular age group no longer warrants a teacher.

OFFER A HAIRCUT SERVICE

A fundamental concept of LPL is to serve the entire family, not just the children. To that end we have a number of programs designed to make our parent's life more "hassle free". One of our programs is children's haircuts. We have contracted with a local beautician to come into our schools once or twice a month to provide a haircut service to those parents who desire it for their children. We have a convenient form that we use which allows the parent the opportunity to describe in detail what kind of haircut he/she desires for their child. We realize some parents consider their child's haircut a family outing and others want to be there to personally direct the way their child's hair is cut. This service is intended to be for the parents who do not fit into these categories and would rather spend family time doing other things.

CHECK IDENTIFICATION

In these uncertain times, with the innumerable custody variations imposed by the courts, releasing a child to a "parent" is not as straight forward as it used to be. Because we deal with so many family situations and must remain neutral in all cases we must have a system that protects the child, the parents and LPL.

The person who signs our contract is the only person who may designate someone to pick up his/her child because that person is the only one we have a child-care contract with. Some of you have expressed irritation when you or someone you have designated is asked for identification because the employee releasing the child does not recognize you or the person you have designated. Our employees are given specific instructions that if they do not positively identify you they must ask you for identification. WHEN IN DOUBT THEY ASK FOR IDENTIFICATION! If they violate this rule they can lose their job. The definition of proper identification is: Picture ID and the individual reciting their code word/number.

One of the problems we have encountered is the parents not giving the person picking up their child their code number. Not having the proper code number on file causes confusion and embarrassment for the legitimate person picking up your child. We require the code number because we have experienced people using false identification when trying to pick up a child. Additionally, they need to enter their code word to enable them to enter the classroom area.

An area that causes confusion and irritation is when parents in a custody dispute want to pick up their child. Many times the COURTS will not allow one of the parents to pick up their child. We are bound by that court order and may not release the child. Because of incidents like the one just noted the fact that the child recognizes the parent does not automatically mean we will not check identification. If the parent who signed the contract with us removes anyone, including the spouse, from the pickup list we must abide by that fact. The courts require us to adhere to the requests of the person we have a contract with.

Remember if only one parent signed our contract the other parent must be listed on our authorization for pickup file before we can release the child to that par-

Pitch a Tent

Get use out of your tent all summer long

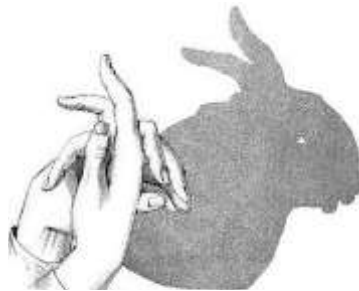

This camping trip mainstay can serve a variety of purposes beyond providing shelter and sleeping quarters. Set one up in the backyard and you've got:

- a shady retreat for summer reading, listening to music, or journal writing
- a clubhouse for kids only (siblings, cousins, neighborhood friends)
- a changing room for sprinkler games and kiddie-pool days
- the perfect venue for an after-dinner shadow puppet show (The Little Book of Hand Shadows, published by Running Press, features more than two dozen creatures that are fun for kids to create)
- an insect-proof concert hall for listening to a symphony of crickets and peepers

What you do:

Go into a dark room. Have your child hold his or her hand in front of a lamp or flashlight so it casts a shadow on the wall

Shadow Puppets

What you will need: lamp or flashlight, blank wall or tent, and a dark room

What you talk about:

Tell your child that shadows are made when something gets in the way of light and blocks the light out.

Have your child make another hand shadow. Tell him or her to move the light closer to the hand.

Then ask, "What happens to the shadow when the light is closer?" (The shadow gets longer.)

Next, have your child move the light farther from the hand.

Then ask, "What happens to the shadow when the light is farther?" (The shadow gets shorter.)
